INTRODUCTION

This report presents final 1966 Census totals and comparative 1961 figures by census tracts within the specified centres shown in the table below. Index maps outlining the relative locations of these census tracts in each centre are also included.

Census tracts are statistical units which have been established in 28 of the larger cities and census metropolitan areas. They are designed with a view to providing basic census statistics for homogeneous areas with respect to economic status and living conditions. As far as possible, they are established as permanent areas and as such, are of further value in disclosing trends within sections of large urban communities. In Canada, census tracts were established in co-operation with local authorities requesting this type of information. Wherever possible, local committees were formed to delineate these areas.

In addition to the summary population totals contained in this report, detailed statistical information by census tracts will be issued in a special series of bulletins. (See catalogue "Publications of the 1966 Census of Canada" available from the Information Division of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.) In these later bulletins (one for each city or metropolitan area), the population of each tract is shown by the characteristics of age, sex and marital status. Also, households are classified by number of persons and families; dwellings by type and tenure; and families by age of head, number and ages of children and type of family.

The table below shows the number of tracts in each centre as well as the page reference for the population counts. The index maps appearing in this report are arranged in alphabetical order.

Le présent rapport donne les chiffres définitifs du recensement de 1966 ainsi que les chiffres comparatifs de 1961 des secteurs de recensement situés à l'intérieur des centres énumérés dans le tableau ci-après. Les contours de la situation relative des secteurs de recensement dans chaque centre sont aussi inclus dans les cartes-index.

Les secteurs de recensement sont des subdivisions statistiques qui ont été établies dans 28 grandes villes et zones métropolitaines. Ils ont été conçus de façon à fournir la statistique de base du recensement sur des régions homogènes quant à la situation économique et aux conditions de vie. Autant que possible, ils sont constitués de façon permanente et, comme tels, sont encore plus précieux pour discerner les tendances intimes des secteurs des grandes villes. Au Canada, les secteurs de recensement ont été établis en collaboration avec les autorités locales qui avaient demandé des renseignements dans cet ordre d'idées. Des comités locaux ont été créés partout où il a été possible de le faire, et chargés de délimiter les secteurs.

Pour compléter la statistique sommaire de la population du présent rapport, une série spéciale de bulletins donnera des statistiques détaillées par secteur de recensement. (Voir le catalogue "Publications du recensement du Canada de 1966" qu'on peut se procurer à la Division de l'information, Bureau fédéral de la statistique.) Dans ces derniers bulletins (un pour chaque cité ou zone métropolitaine), la population de chaque secteur est donnée selon les caractéristiques suivantes: âge, sexe et état matrimonial. De plus, les ménages sont classés suivant le nombre de personnes et de familles; les logements, suivant le type et le mode d'occupation; et les familles, suivant l'âge du chef, le nombre et l'âge des enfants et le type de famille.

Le tableau ci-après donne le nombre de secteurs dans chaque centre ainsi que la page où paraissent les chiffres de la population. Les cartes-index du présent rapport sont disposées par ordre alphabétique.
